

in:colour™

in:colour - speaking the language of colour

Price List 2009

Helping you use colour to express yourself and communicate your messages clearly and effectively. And colourfully.

The stylish way to feel truly at home

Why is it that some rooms can make you relax and comfortable while others set you on edge? Have you noticed how some rooms may energise you whilst others just make you feel uncomfortable? Largely, this is down to colour, and by understanding your colour personality you can create a set of surroundings that you feel completely comfortable in.

in:colour offers a complete interior design service; from concept and specification to product sourcing, implementation and project management. And if all you need is a colour palette, we can advise you on the most supportive colours for your interior design.

Colour for the home

Do you need a nudge in the right direction with some design inspiration?

If you want to complete and manage your interior project yourself but just need a little help with some direction then our simple inspirational colour board service could be just what you need to help you on your way to fulfilling your design dreams. We offer the following packages:

A) Colour boards for interior design inspiration from £250 based on 1.5 hour site visit to discuss ideas and develop your colour swatch board with colour paint/fabric/textile samples for up to 2 rooms.

B) Colour boards for design inspiration from £450 based on 2 hour site visit to discuss ideas and develop your colour swatch board with colour paint/fabric/textile samples for up to 4 rooms.

And if you would like our help with the whole project

From concept and specification to product sourcing, implementation and project management, our in:colour interior designers offer a comprehensive and professional interior design service. Please contact us to arrange a complementary on site visit; we would be most happy to discuss your requirements.

Contact us

Find out how we can improve your surroundings with the support of colour and good design. Call us today on 01483 414316 or email interiorcolour@incolourconsultancy.com

colour for business and commercial interiors

Embrace the power of colour for productivity, creativity and profit!

Creating a colour palette for your business workspace is about more than finding a more inspiring paint colour than magnolia or battleship grey! Using appropriate colours will increase the effectiveness and creativity of those who work in your office as well as positively influencing customers who come into the space.

Integrating your interiors with your brand strategy is essential in projecting an authentic image. in:colour will help you create interiors that are consistent with your brand values, strengthening your corporate image, supporting your employees and, ultimately, contributing to your business success.

Create a successful colour palette for your business or commercial interior.

We can create colour boards for interior design direction from £495 based on 2 hour site visit to colour audit and discuss ideas and includes a written report with your colour swatch board with colour paint/fabric/textile samples.

And if you would like more of our help

From concept and specification to product sourcing, implementation and project management, you can benefit from our extensive interior design expertise to ensure that your space functions well and helps your employees perform their roles to the best of their ability.

Please contact us to discuss your project.

Contact us

Find out how we can improve your surroundings with the support of colour and good design. Call us today on 01483 414316 or email interiorcolour@incolourconsultancy.com

“Both rooms had become tired, they are now full of life, with colours that create a calm and relaxing atmosphere. Staff and families are all delighted with the result.”

Pat Keown, house manager at Rainbow House

Discover the colour palette that will most effectively communicate the values of your organisation and appeal to your target market

Whether you are creating or updating your corporate identity or working on a one-off design project, colour for communication and design is a consultancy service designed to help you unlock the power of colour psychology for your business.

Doing so will enable you to build brand recognition, trust and loyalty. You'll be able to communicate more effectively and you'll stand out from your competitors. Use the power of colour to communicate what makes you unique, strengthen your brand, effectively promote your products and appeal to your target market.

Corporate colour consultancy from £195 based on 1 hour initial briefing meeting, report and audit of current colour palette (if required) and recommended colour specification up to 6 colour swatches and standard colour references: Pantone, RGB, HEX, CMYK etc. Please contact us for an initial telephone consultation to discuss your requirements.

Discover how you can unlock the power of colour psychology for your business. Call us today on 01483 414316 or email colourcommunication@incolourconsultancy.com

“The emphasis on producing more efficient and effective design work for my clients is a very good USP”

David Walters, FREEFLOW

Personal colour psychology & colour for design and communication combined package

Embrace the power of colour for you and your business

Do you work for yourself or have your own business? If so you probably are your own walking, talking advert. Learn how to differentiate yourself from your competitors and strengthen your own personal brand and image. Combine a personal colour psychology consultation with a colour consultation for your business that will really lift your business communications and get you noticed!

Discover how you can unlock the power of colour psychology for you and your business. Call us today on 01483 414316 or email colourcommunication@incolourconsultancy.com

“I feel that I look better. The result is fabulous, and something that I can really identify with. I know I will be very happy to give my business cards out. I also know that without the colour analysis I would not have come to such a great result”.

Anna Doedens-Plant Quintessence Personal Coaching

Personal colour psychology & colour for design & communication combined package

from £295

